1.1 Logotype uses

On our social media channels, the Agoria logo is the avatar.

The size and shape are dictated by the channels on which they stand and that is why we have both a circular and square avatar. The logo sits centrally and vertically within both sizes and is always shown on white background.

Examples of how these look are shown within the 'design principles' section of this guide.

A Square Avatar

B Circular Avatar

Important

These two key elements must always be together and kept in their original proportions.

🌱 #DUURZAAMHEID | Weinig bedrijven hebben samenwerkingen zo in hun kern ingebouwd als Ometa. Het Antwerpse softwarebedrijf laat wereldwijd data, klanten en de grootste softwarebedrijven (digitaal) samenwerken. Zo maakt het bedrijven efficiënter en duurzamer.

Deze case van Ometa valt onder het actiedomein 'Samenwerking' in ons duurzaamheidsrapport #TechnologyForABetterWorld.

1.2 Facebook

Cover Photo

Facebook has a 'safe area' — this is where the majority of the header content should be placed to avoid illegibility when cropped. Cropping will occur when viewed on smaller electronic devices such as tablets and phones.

If you upload a Facebook cover photo at 851 x 315 pixels, the center 640 x 315 pixels will be viewable on mobile.

The Agoria baseline always has to be visible in the safe area of the banners. Its position might vary in function of the image.

- A Safe Area (visible on mobile & desktops)
- B Reserve zone (only visible on mobile)
- C Reserve zone (only visible on desktop)

Important

Occasionally the banners might be adapted, according to the current communication campaigns.

1.4 LinkedIn

2. Life tab

The LinkedIn Life Tab allows you to share the human side of your company with prospective clients and job seekers. It helps you give people a peek into your company culture, ethics, photos, and employee perspectives and show them what your brand is all about.

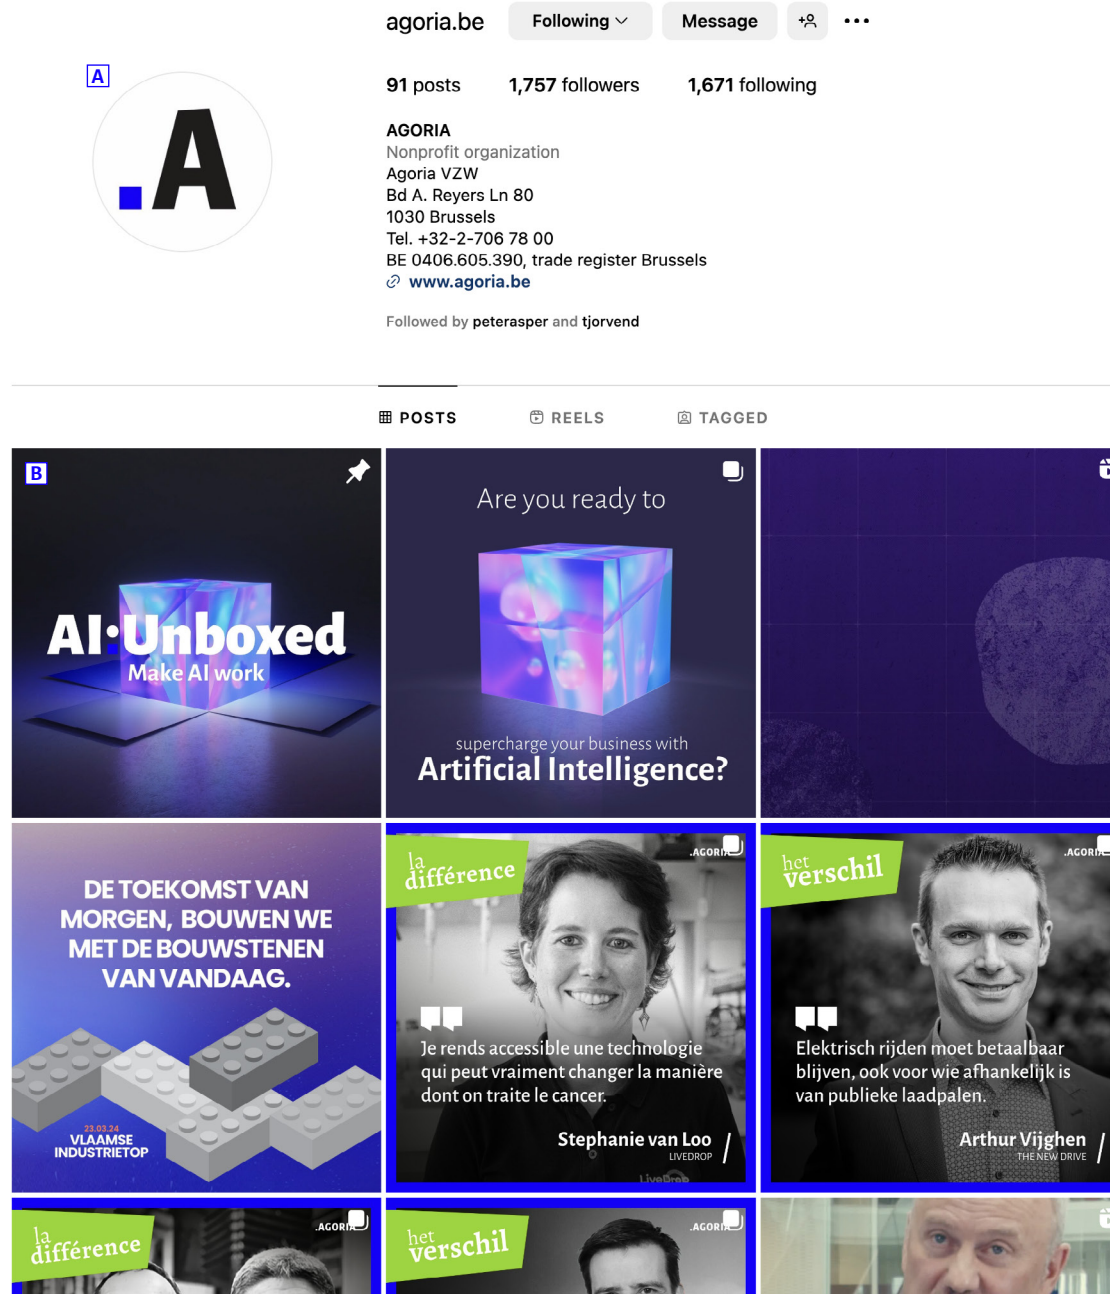

Clicking the Life Tab will reveal a new picture that is bigger than the Cover Image. Be sure to include a relevant picture here as well.

1.6 Youtube

YouTube recommends 2560 x 1440 pixels as the ideal dimension or resolution for banners. However, when creating a banner, you need to keep in mind the different "viewing areas" above that will optimize the viewing experience across multiple devices.

On the next page, we give a visual overview.

1.6 Youtube

The different sizes of the Youtube Banner Picture

There's a huge range of sizes to plan for to make sure The YouTube banner art displays optimally on all screen sizes. What looks spectacular on a large screen may be rendered senseless on a smartphone screen.

These are the main sizes to keep into account:

- A Banner Picture on TV (2560 x 1440 px)
- B Banner Picture on desktop (2560 x 338 px)
- C Banner Picture on Mobile (1235 x 338 px)

File size: 6mb or smaller

The Banner Picture on Mobile is also the safe area. Logo and baseline should appear within this area.

Important

Occasionally the banners might be adapted, according to the current communication campaigns.

1.6 Design visuals

Several templates are available to quickly and easily create social content. The individual visuals can be combined into a carousel if needed.

Each template also comes in a version using one of the four AGORIA gradients: cherry, apple, mint, and corn.

Tip when using Midjourney visuals:

Make sure the gradients you use match the color palette of the Midjourney visuals. Stick to a single color combination within each carousel to maintain visual consistency.

Important
